

CAREER TRANSITION GUIDE BY BACKGROUND

You Already Have 60% of the Skills

Here's how to master the remaining 40% based on your current professional path.

FOR NOTARIES

Element	Your Journey
The Transition	Moving from "witnessing signatures" to "witnessing occupancy"
The Edge You Have	You already understand document integrity and identity verification
What to Learn	Apply your "verify and witness" habits to physical assets
Key Focus	Use utility meters and "signs of life" to determine residency
Boundary Warning	Keep field inspection and notary work SEPARATE—don't mix on same visit

FOR REALTORS

Element	Your Journey
The Transition	Shifting from "selling a dream" to "documenting a default"
The Edge You Have	Existing knowledge of property condition and neighborhood trends
What to Learn	Objective documentation without marketing language or editorializing
Key Focus	Maintain "bright line" between roles—you work for LENDER, not buyer/seller
Boundary Warning	NEVER offer repair estimates or structural diagnoses during field work

FOR GIG WORKERS

Element	Your Journey
The Transition	Upgrading from delivery driver to specialized documentarian
The Edge You Have	Mastered routing, GPS navigation, and mobile app usage
What to Learn	Balance speed with forensic-quality photography and professionalism
Key Focus	You MUST exit your vehicle—car parts in photo = immediate rejection
Boundary Warning	Higher quality bar than delivery work—rejections cost time and money

FOR EXISTING INSPECTORS

Element	Your Journey
The Transition	Standardizing workflow for high-volume, vetted firm networks
The Edge You Have	Field experience and technical equipment already in place
What to Learn	Nested Objects network standards and "Base Standard PCR" compliance
Key Focus	"Zero-defect" documentation and strict SLA compliance
Boundary Warning	Higher-paying firms have higher standards—polish your reports